

With His Durable Grin
They Decided To Use Him
As A "Welcome" Mat!

There was little to say
On that unhappy day
When a steamroller ran over Marty
In their house was his wife
The light of his life
Making plans (they were going to a party)
Marty's hair they did comb
E're they cart-wheeled him home
(So to look like old Marty before)
But his wife at that hour
Was taking a shower
So they slid Marty under the door
